FOOTBALL OUTLOOK

The 1981 Ohio State football team has considerably fewer proven football players than the 1980 squad. With 11 regulars returning, 11 new starters must be found. Ohio State has only 26 lettermen, fewest since 1967. Depth is thin at some positions, so regulars must stay healthy and sophomores and freshmen must develop rapidly.

"We are optimistic about our football team," says Coach Earle Bruce. "We have talented people at the skilled positions. It is important how we start, because the schedule does not allow us to build week by week. With 11 new starters, it's essential we find our best combination as soon as possible.

"There will be some changes in our offense and defense to make better use of our personnel. We'll still work for the big play and take what the defense gives us."

OFFENSE

Each of the seven returning regulars figures to start. The other four positions are expected to be filled by players who were top reserves last season.

There are several premium performers. The size is adequate and the speed is above average. Depth is a concern.

Line

Gary Williams will start at split end and will be spelled by Thad Jemison. Williams is a quality athlete. He caught 25 passes in 1979 and 39 last year. He has the speed to go all the way. Jemison is a good receiver with the ability to get open.

Brad Dwelle and John Frank are steady tight ends. Dwelle excels as a blocker, while Frank has an edge as a receiver. Both are highly intelligent and dependable.

Judd Groza, so promising until sidelined with a back injury in 1980, is healthy again. He is an excellent end.

Joe Smith and Bill Roberts are the only returning tackles to win letters. Smith, a 1980 starter, is more confident this year. He is extremely strong and has put on added weight. Roberts played more than any freshman in 1980. He has all the tools to become a standout.

Depth will come from Jim Carson and Joe Dooley, two sophomores with virtually no experience. Both athletes made rapid strides in spring drills and appear ready to play.

Joe Lukens is one of the top guards in college football. A two-year starter, he was a tackle in 1979 and a guard last year. Lukens has strength, size, intelligence and a rare understanding of the game.

Dave Medich has an edge at the other guard spot. An honor student throughout college, he is a sound athlete. Medich, the top guard replacement in 1980, must withstand a challenge from sophomore Scott Zalenski, who missed the 1980 season because of knee surgery. Zalenski is endowed with raw talent and will be difficult to keep out of the starting lineup once he puts his game together.

Durable Jim DeLeone returns at center. A good blocking technician, he started all 12 games in 1980 and had consistently good game performances. Depth will come from a much improved Craig Pack, from promising Joe Apke and from Bernie Brown, who lettered in 1979.

Backfield

Art Schlichter is a superb athlete. No quarterback in college football better combines the threat of a pass or a run. He holds virtually all the Ohio State records for passing. He has thrown for 33 touchdowns and rushed for 29 in a brilliant three-year career at Ohio State.

Versatile Bob Atha is a quality reserve. An excellent runner and an effective passer, Atha is a spirited leader.

Transfer Brent Offenbecher, Tim Stephens and Scott Woolf provide added strength. Offenbecher was especially impressive in spring practice. In addition, there is some exceptional quarterback talent among the freshmen.

Although Cal Murray, leading rusher in 1980, is gone, Ohio State is not without talent at tailback. Tim Spencer, Jim Gayle and Kelvin Lindsey are all good backs.

Spencer was a tailback in 1979 and a starting fullback last year, averaging 5.3 yards per try in 108 carries and scoring eight touchdowns. He appears certain to start and may see duty both at tailback and fullback.

Gayle also averaged 5.3 yards per carry in 1980. He runs inside or outside with equal effectiveness. Lindsey may be the top game-breaker of the three, but he has had difficulty staying healthy.

When Spencer is not at fullback, Vaughn Broadnax, Ray Myers or Craig Dunn will be. Broadnax has the size and strength but must avoid injuries. Myers is a good blocker and a reliable performer. Dunn, a Villanova transfer, has impressive size, but must adjust from Villanova's wishbone attack to Ohio State's system.

Sophomore speedsters Cedric Anderson and Victor Langley will play flanker. Anderson, the likely starter, has sure hands and runs good routes. Langley, a converted tailback, may be the fastest man on the team.

DEFENSE

Coordinator Denny Fryzel and his defensive staff are short on experienced personnel. There are only ten lettermen on defense and only four are starters.

"We don't have much experience," admits Fryzel, "but we do have some fine athletes with good quickness. We'll make some changes in our defensive scheme and I'm confident we can become a sound unit."

Line

Regulars Jerome Foster and Chris Riehm return at the tackle positions. Foster, who is agile and strong, will be one of the top tackles in the Big Ten. Riehm improved steadily each game last year. Blessed with imposing size and strength, he should be outstanding.

Tackle depth is unproven. Spencer Nelms, a mid-year high school graduate, entered Ohio State last winter.

He had an excellent spring practice. Alan Balen, originally a walk-on, has improved dramatically and now is ready to help. Several highly touted freshmen should be ready to bolster the tackle position by mid-season.

Nick Miller has waited patiently for an opportunity to play at middle guard. In this, his senior year, he has acquired the weight, strength and confidence to be a starter. Pressing him will be hard-luck Mark Hocevar, who missed his freshman year because of a knee injury.

Linebackers

New starters must be found at both outside linebacking spots. The top candidates are Ben Lee and Mike D'Andrea, both of whom lettered in a reserve role in 1980. They will be pushed by Orlando Lowry and Curt Curtis, both promising athletes who need only game experience.

Regulars Marcus Marek and Glen Cobb will start in the inside positions. Marek is one of the top linebackers in college football. An Academic All-American, he led the team in tackles and has a special knack for being around the ball.

Cobb is another standout. Agile, quick and highly competitive, he has unusual range. His teammates elected him defensive captain even though he is a junior.

Reserve strength will be supplied by Rich Czyzynski and Joe Berner. Czyzynski has good lateral movement while Berner is bigger and is a punishing tackler. Another Villanova transfer, Anthony Griggs, is highly regarded. He can play inside or outside.

Secondary

The Buckeye secondary will be totally new. The situation is further clouded by Rod Gorley's physical condition. Gorley was the most experienced of the returnees but underwent knee surgery April 12 and his availability this fall is doubtful.

Shaun Gayle will start at one corner. Intelligent, competitive and a hard hitter, Shaun played very well as a freshman in 1980. Behind him is Jeff Cisco, who moved to defense from tailback late last season. Cisco quickly adapted to his new role and will strengthen the secondary.

Mark Eberts, second team in 1980, gets the nod at the other corner position. He earned the right to start with a strong showing in spring drills. Doyle Lewis, who lettered in 1979, will press Eberts.

The move in the spring of Garcia Lane from flanker to safety was a success. Lane played safety in high school so his adjustment problems are minimal.

Tom Anthony, a transfer from Villanova, is certain to help, either as a starter or in a reserve role. He was a regular at Villanova and comes with good credentials.

Kicking Game

Atha is the only holdover from Ohio State's excellent 1980 kicking game. Atha will kick off as well as kick extra points and field goals. Bill Andrews will be the understudy. Newcomer Karl Edwards will be the punter with help from two promising freshmen.

EARLE BRUCE—HEAD FOOTBALL COACH

Earle Bruce

Earle Bruce has been an unqualified success as head football coach at Ohio State. His two-year record is 20-4, including a 20-2 mark during the regular season. His Buckeye teams won the 1979 Big Ten championship outright and had a near-miss for similar honors in 1980. Both years Coach Bruce guided Ohio State to bowl games.

Bruce was named "1979 College Coach of the Year" by the Football Coaches' Association, by the Football Writers and by U.P.I. His first Ohio State team compiled an 11-0 regular season mark, even though unranked in pre-season polls. Only a 17-16 loss in the Rose Bowl kept Ohio State from a probable national championship.

Bruce was born in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania and moved to Cumberland, Maryland at age ten. He was a star halfback and top sprinter in high school. He enrolled at Ohio State in the fall of 1949, but a serious knee injury as a freshman ruined his football career as a player. He reinjured his knee prior to the 1951 season and had to drop football. Discouraged and tempted to drop out of college, he was persuaded by Coach Woody Hayes to remain and get a degree. Woody's persistence paid off, for Bruce did remain in school and graduated on schedule in the spring of 1953.

Bruce launched his coaching career in the fall of 1953 as an assistant at Mansfield Senior High in Mansfield, Ohio. His first opportunity as head coach came in 1956 at Salem. Four years later, he moved to Sandusky and in 1964 he became head coach at Massillon. In ten years as a head coach in high school, Bruce's teams compiled an impressive 82-12-3 record. He was 28-9 at Salem, 34-3-3 at Sandusky and 20-0 at Massillon. He holds the rare distinction of being named "Ohio High School Coach of the Year" three times, in 1960, 1964 and again in 1965. He ended his high school coaching career with a 42-game winning streak intact.

At this point, Bruce left the high school ranks to become an assistant at Ohio State in 1966. For two years, he served as defensive backfield coach and when a staff realignment took place in 1968, he moved to offense as coach of the guards and centers.

During his six years at Ohio State, the Buckeyes won three Big Ten championships, one national title, played in two Rose Bowl games and compiled a 43-14 record.

Bruce left Ohio State in 1972 to become head coach at the University of Tampa. He was an immediate success. The 1972 Tampa team had a 10-2 record, including a Tangerine Bowl win over Kent State, Mid-American Conference champion.

The following year Bruce was named head coach at Iowa State in the powerful Big Eight Conference. Victories were hard to come by at Iowa State, where the school had enjoyed only two winning seasons in ten years.

After three straight 4-7 seasons, Earle's hard work and dedication paid off as Iowa State recorded three consecutive 8-3 marks. This was the first time in 54 years that the Cyclones had enjoyed three straight winning seasons. In two of these years, Bruce was named "Big Eight Coach of the Year" and in 1977 and 1978, Iowa State received bowl bids. Cyclone football was on its soundest base in many years thanks to Bruce.

In January of 1979, when Ohio State suddenly needed a head football coach, Bruce was the choice. He eagerly accepted.

Coach Bruce

Bruce has been a successful coach on all levels, ranging from high school to major college competition. Those who followed his coaching career knew that he was ideally suited for the Ohio State coaching job. It took Bruce only one year to prove this.

Earle is a well-organized administrator who places great emphasis on pre-game planning. He is a good recruiter, an excellent public speaker and a strong spokesman for college football. He can develop and motivate talent and is at his best when matching football strategy on the sidelines.

Earle and his wife, Jean, have four daughters, Lynn, Michele, Aimee and Noel.

ASSISTANT COACHES
OFFENSE
GLEN MASON—Offense Coordinator

Glen Mason

Glen Mason is starting his fourth year with the Ohio State football staff. In 1978, his first year with the Buckeyes, Mason coached the outside linebackers. In 1979, he coached the guards and centers on offense and while he continued to coach these positions in 1980, he took on the additional responsibilities of offense coordinator.

Mason is a 1972 graduate of Ohio State. His coaching career began as a graduate assistant at Ball State in 1972. The following year he went to Allegheny College and in 1974 returned to Ball State. In 1975, Mason went to Iowa State to coach under Earle Bruce. Bruce knew Mason at Ohio State, when Glen was a member of the Buckeye football team and Bruce was an Ohio State assistant coach.

Mason spent the 1976 and '77 seasons at Illinois before coming to Ohio State in April, 1978.

Mason is a native of Colonia, New Jersey. As an undergraduate at Ohio State, he won a varsity letter in 1970 and figured to start at middle guard in 1971. A broken ankle one week before the season opener abruptly ended his playing career.

Glen and his wife, Sally, a former Ohio State cheerleader, have a son, Patrick, and a daughter, Chris.

BILL MYLES—Tackles and Tight Ends

Bill Myles

Bill Myles joined the Buckeye football staff in March, 1977. He is one of two assistants to be retained from the previous Ohio State staff by Coach Earle Bruce. Myles coaches the offensive tackles and tight ends.

A native of Kansas City, Myles graduated from Drake University in 1962 with a B.S. degree in education. As an undergraduate, he played center and linebacker.

After college, Myles began a coaching career as an assistant in high school in Kansas City. He became a head coach in 1965. His seven-year record was 45-20-3. During this period, he earned a master's degree from Central Missouri State in 1967.

In 1972, Myles went to the University of Nebraska as an assistant coach. He began as a freshman assistant, and after one year, he became offensive line coach. In 1975, Myles was moved to defense as linebacker coach, a position he held until coming to Ohio State.

Bill and his wife, Lorita, have two children, daughter Debbie and son, Bill.

WAYNE STANLEY—Running Backs

Wayne Stanley

Wayne Stanley was one of four assistant coaches to make the move from Iowa State to Ohio State, when Earle Bruce was named head coach of the Buckeyes.

Stanley, who is single, is the youngest member of the Buckeye staff. He was born June 22, 1954, in Belle Glade, Florida. An all-around athlete at Central High, Stanley lettered in football, track and basketball, and was an all-Florida quarterback attracting wide attention. He was in Earle Bruce's first recruiting class at Iowa State in 1973.

Stanley lettered four years at Iowa State and was co-captain of the 1976 Cyclone team. He shares the school record for the most career touchdown passes (25) as well as for the most touchdown passes in one game (4). He passed for 2,671 career yards which ranks fifth in Iowa State history. He guided the 1976 Iowa State team that ranked second nationally in total offense. In all, Stanley started 26 games at Iowa State.

Stanley spent the 1977 season as a student coach at Iowa State, while he completed work for his degree. The following year he became a full-time member of the coaching staff working with the running backs.

FRED ZECHMAN—Quarterbacks and Wide Receivers

Fred Zechman

Fred Zechman joined the Ohio State University football staff in January, 1979. He coaches the quarterbacks and wide receivers.

Zechman is a native of Sylvania, Ohio. He is a graduate of Capital University and played football there under Gene Slaughter, a former Ohio State football assistant.

Zechman had 12 years of coaching experience prior to joining the Ohio State staff. He began as an assistant at Capital in 1967. In 1969, he was a defense coordinator in high school at Franklin, Ohio. His first opportunity to become a head coach came in 1971 at Western Reserve High in Berlin Center. In 1973, he became head coach at Miami Trace High, where in six years his teams won 55, lost six and tied one. In the summer of 1978, Zechman coached the South All-Stars to an upset win over a heavily favored North team.

Zechman is a good student of football and has a keen, imaginative flair for offense. He wants to feature both running and passing in the offense.

Fred and his wife, Linda, have two children, son Eric, and daughter Gretchen.

DEFENSE

DENNIS FRYZEL—Defense Coordinator

Dennis Fryzel

Dennis Fryzel is the defense coordinator and coach of the interior linebackers. He joined the Buckeye staff in January, 1979, shortly after Earle Bruce was named head coach at Ohio State.

Fryzel is a native of Garfield Heights, Ohio and is a 1964 graduate of Denison University. He played four years of football at Denison.

He began his coaching career in the fall of 1964 as an assistant at Garfield Heights High School, his alma mater. In 1966 he went to Columbia University as backfield coach and in 1968 he went to Williams College in a similar capacity.

In 1972, he began an association with Earle Bruce, when he was named defense coordinator at the University of Tampa. When Bruce left to take the head coaching job at Iowa State in 1973, Fryzel was named head coach at Tampa. In two years, his teams posted a 14-8 record. When Tampa dropped football after the 1974 season, Fryzel was out of coaching for one year. In 1976 he went with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers but returned to college in 1977 as defense coordinator at Syracuse. He was an assistant at the Air Force Academy in 1978 before coming to Ohio State.

Fryzel and his wife, Gayle, have two daughters, Karen and Susan.

STEVE SZABO—Tackles and Middle Guards

Steve Szabo

Steve Szabo joined the Ohio State University football staff in January, 1979. He had been a member of Earle Bruce's Iowa State staff. Szabo's duties at Ohio State are to work with the defensive tackles and middle guards.

Szabo is a native of Evergreen Park, Illinois and a graduate of Mendel High School in Chicago. He was an honor student at Mendel and an all-Chicago football player. He attended the U.S. Naval Academy and majored in physics. At Navy, he lettered in football and lacrosse and won All-American honors in lacrosse.

After graduating from Navy, Szabo served four years in the Marines. Following his discharge in 1969, he began as an assistant coach at Johns Hopkins. He went to Toledo the following year and in 1971 went to Iowa. In 1974 Szabo went to Syracuse before going to Iowa State in 1977. In two years at Iowa State, Szabo developed two All-Americans and five all-Big Eight players.

Steve and his wife, Nancy, have two children, daughter Christine and son Michael.

BOB TUCKER—Outside Linebackers

Bob Tucker

Bob Tucker is Ohio State's outside linebacker coach. He joined the Buckeye staff in January of 1979. Tucker was one of four assistant coaches at Iowa State to accompany Earle Bruce to Ohio State.

Tucker is a native of Sandusky, Ohio. His high school coach was Earle Bruce. Following high school, Tucker went to Wooster College, where he graduated in 1965. He won three football letters at Wooster.

In 1966, Tucker went to Penn State as a graduate assistant, serving under Joe Paterno. He earned a master's degree in the spring of 1967.

He started his coaching career as an assistant in high school at Massillon, Ohio, in 1967. In 1969, he went to Wichita State University as an assistant and remained there until 1973, when he went to Iowa State to serve under Earle Bruce.

Tucker had 13 years of coaching experience prior to joining the Ohio State grid staff. This consists of 11 years on a university level and two years in high school.

Bob and his wife, Lynn, have two daughters, Diana and Michelle and son, Scott.

NICK SABAN—Defensive Backfield

Nick Saban

Nick Saban coaches the Ohio State secondary. He replaced Pete Carroll, who left the Ohio State staff after the 1980 Rose Bowl game, to become defense coordinator at North Carolina State University.

For Top National Honors
Art Schlichter

Art Schlichter

Art Schlichter may well be the best quarterback in Ohio State football history. His record of accomplishments with the Buckeyes is second to none.

Schlichter has started every game since entering Ohio State as a freshman in 1978. He has virtually rewritten the Ohio State record book for passing even though he still has a season to go. Art is a winner. In high school his Miami Trace teams did not lose a game in which he started at quarterback and this covered three and one-half seasons.

He began his freshman year as a starting safety but moved to quarterback by mid-season.

At Miami Trace High, Schlichter completed 264 of 478 passes for 4,397 yards and 46 touchdowns. A dangerous runner as well, he rushed for 1,660 yards and scored 29 times.

Schlichter has been highly successful at Ohio State. In three years, Buckeye teams have compiled a 27-5-1 record during the regular season. And Ohio State has played in a bowl game each year.

Even though the Buckeyes lost each bowl game, Schlichter was brilliant in defeat. As a freshman in 1978, Clemson edged the Buckeyes 17-15, but Schlichter completed 16 of 20 passes for 285 yards and scored both Ohio State touchdowns by rushing.

As a sophomore in 1979, Southern California came from behind with a late fourth quarter drive to edge the Buckeyes 17-16. In this game, Schlichter passed for 297 yards, including a 67-yard scoring toss.

Last year against Penn State in the Fiesta Bowl, the Buckeyes led the Nittany Lions 19-10 at halftime, but eventually lost, 31-19. Again Schlichter had an outstanding game, completing 20 of 35 passes for 302 yards. He passed for all three Ohio State touchdowns.

In three years at Ohio State, Schlichter has completed 314 of 601 passes for 4,996 yards and 33 touchdowns. Each figure is a school record. Overall he has completed 52.2 percent of his passes and has averaged 138.8 yards passing per game.

In rushing, he has carried 433 times for 1,345 yards and has run for 29 touchdowns. His career total offense comes to 6,341 yards, also a school record.

Schlichter's career at Ohio State began when Woody Hayes was coach. Woody frequently stated he believed, "Art Schlichter could become the best quarterback to play at Ohio State before he is through."

Coach Earle Bruce has some perceptive remarks. "Art has all the basic ingredients for a great quarterback: size, speed, toughness, leadership qualities, courage, intelligence and great, great desire. He can throw deep with accuracy, has quick feet and can run the option. He can drop back, he can roll out and he can read defenses. And let me tell you this, Art Schlichter is a winner."

The youngest in a family of three, Art lives on the family farm outside Bloomingburg, Ohio. He shrugs off his numerous individual honors and records throughout high school and college, but admits to being very pleased when his Ohio State teammates elected him captain on offense of the 1981 Buckeye team.

Ohio State University football players have won five Heisman Awards, second highest of any university in the nation. Art Schlichter would be a most worthy addition to this list of select Buckeyes.

THE OHIO

It all began in 1870, when the Ohio Legislature selected a plot of land on Neil Farm to be the site of a new college. With little fanfare the new school opened its doors September 17, 1873. There were 24 students, educated and housed in a single building. First known as Ohio Agricultural and Mechanical College, the name was changed to The Ohio State University in 1878.

Since this time Ohio State has enjoyed spectacular growth in stature and in size. In addition to its undergraduate program, Ohio State has become a nationally recognized center for research and graduate work.

The graduate enrollment is 10,160 which is one of the largest in the country. Enrollment in the professional colleges is 2,811, second highest of any school in the nation.

Funding for research and other sponsored programs amounted to $63 million last year. Ohio State has its own Research Foundation and conducts studies and experiments in more than 125 fields.

The Ohio State University is made up of 17 colleges and a Graduate School. There are nine special schools within the colleges.

Ohio State students may select from 181 undergraduate majors and approximately 6,900 courses. A master's degree can be taken in 114 study areas and a doctoral degree in 85.

University libraries include the Main Library and 35 area or departmental libraries. There are well over 3,500,000 volumes.

The total enrollment, including those in evening classes, was 54,725 in the Autumn Quarter of 1980. The breakdown includes 34,302 full-time undergraduates, 12,971 in graduate and professional schools and 7,452 part-timers. There are 24,757 women students, 45 percent of the total enrollment. There are students from each of Ohio's 88 counties, from all 50 states and from 100 foreign countries. Foreign students total over 1,600.

STATE UNIVERSITY

The Columbus campus consists of 381 buildings on 3,255 acres. Additional acreage is owned in other portions of the state as well as properties and parcels of land outside the state. The replacement value of the land, buildings and equipment on the Columbus campus is $1,326,000,000.

The University has a teaching faculty of 3,784 with 77 percent holding doctoral degrees. Ohio State employs 17,437 non-teaching personnel in addition to the teaching faculty. The faculty-student ratio is less than 1-15.

Ohio State operates regional campuses at Lima, Mansfield, Marion and Newark, and has an Agricultural Institute and Research and Development Center at Wooster. The University conducts a Graduate Center at the Wright-Patterson Air Force Base near Dayton.

The Ohio State University Medical Center is one of the best-equipped and most comprehensive college-owned centers in the nation. It is currently undergoing a $97 million expansion made possible by federal, state and University funding.

Reflecting its commitment to the community, the University offers a variety of health clinics, continuing education programs, workshops and seminars, as well as cultural and recreational opportunities.

THE PRESIDENT—DR. EDWARD H. JENNINGS

Dr. Jennings

Dr. Edward H. Jennings became the tenth President of The Ohio State University, September 1, 1981. Prior to this, he had served as President of the University of Wyoming for two years.

Dr. Jennings is a native of Minneapolis, Minnesota. He did his undergraduate work at the University of North Carolina, receiving a B.S. degree in industrial management in 1959. He earned a master's degree in finance from Western Reserve University in 1963 and obtained a doctorate in the same field from the University of Michigan in 1969. While working on his doctorate, Dr. Jennings was a visiting lecturer in finance at Eastern Michigan University.

In 1969, he became Assistant Professor of Finance at the University of Iowa, rising to the rank of Professor of Finance in 1976. In 1974, he was named Chairman of the Department of Business Administration at Iowa and in 1976, Jennings was made Vice President for Finance and University Services at the University of Iowa.

While at Iowa, Dr. Jennings was named advisor to the National Developmental Corporation in Tanzania. He later served as advisor to the Rockefeller Foundation regarding management education in East Africa. He was named advisor to the World Bank on establishing interest rates on loans to developing countries.

He remained at Iowa until July 1, 1979, when he became President of the University of Wyoming. At Wyoming he initiated a vigorous building program. Since Wyoming and Ohio State are both state and land-grant universities, President Jennings is familiar with the role of working with state legislatures and dealing with the complex issues of appropriations to higher education.

His wife, Mary Eleanor, was born in Bellefontaine, Ohio, although she received her early education in Indiana and in Washington, D.C. She is a graduate of the University of Iowa.

The Ohio State University President and his wife have two sons, Bill, 21, who has completed two years at North Iowa Community College, and Steve, 17, a senior in high school.

President Jennings has written a textbook, articles and scholarly papers on various aspects of the field of finance.

President Jennings said he was "very impressed with the warmth and friendliness of the faculty and staff at Ohio State, the stately campus and the prestige and respect that the University commands."

HUGH HINDMAN—DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Hugh Hindman

As Director of Athletics at The Ohio State University, Hugh Hindman heads one of the largest and most comprehensive athletic programs in the nation. Ohio State has 30 intercollegiate sports, 16 for men, 12 for women and two that are coeducational. About 850 student-athletes are in competition each year. The operating budget for the 1981-82 school year is in excess of 11 million dollars. Although the program still operates in the black, the net profit is fast disappearing due to the ravages of inflation, increased operational costs and the dramatic growth of women's sports.

Hindman became Director of Athletics in May, 1977. He has been a member of the Buckeye athletic staff since 1963, serving seven years as an assistant football coach, and seven years as an Associate Director of Athletics.

His goal as Director is "to have a program that reflects both quantity and quality. We want to afford as many students as possible the opportunity to compete in intercollegiate athletics, and we want each and every one of our teams to be competitive."

The athletic facilities at Ohio State are excellent and are undergoing constant upgrading. With the completion of the Mike Peppe Aquatic Center and the Paul G. Benedum Recreation Center in 1977, Ohio State's athletic facilities took another giant stride forward.

Hindman is a native of Columbus and a graduate of North High School. He entered Miami University in 1946 and played four years of varsity football as a guard. He graduated in the spring of 1950 with a B.S. in education.

Hugh began a highly successful coaching career in September of 1950 at Grandview High in Columbus. After three years, he moved to North High, where he coached five years, winning City League titles in 1956 and '57. In 1957, Hindman coached the South All-Stars to a 26-0 upset win over a highly favored North squad.

In 1958, he went to Ohio University as offensive line coach, before moving to Ohio State in 1963.

Hindman acquired an excellent background in athletic administration while serving as associate director. He is active in Big Ten and N.C.A.A. activities, serving on numerous committees. He is a firm believer in the value of competitive athletics kept in proper perspective within the framework of a university.

He recognizes the seemingly endless financial demands to keep a major program going. "It isn't easy, but nothing worthwhile is easy."

Hugh and his wife, Nancy, have three daughters, Karen, Melanie and Melissa.

JAMES JONES—ASSOC. DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

James Jones

James Jones has been a member of the Athletic Department since 1967 and an employee of Ohio State University since 1965. The first two years he taught in the Physical Education Department. Two years later he joined the Athletic Department as academic counselor. In 1970 he was named Assistant Director of Athletics and in 1977 he became Senior Associate Director.

As Associate Director, his chief duties include administration of the grant-in-aid program; rules interpretation, especially in the areas of eligibility and recruiting; maintenance of the physical plant and individual travel.

Jones is a 1958 graduate of Kent State University, with a major in mathematics. After graduation, he taught mathematics and coached football and basketball both on a junior high and senior high level.

In 1964, Jones went to Ball State University and earned a master's degree. The following year he came to Ohio State.

Jim and his wife, Linda, have two children, son Bill and daughter Lynnae.

RICHARD DELANEY—ASSOC. DIR. OF ATHLETICS

Richard Delaney

Richard Delaney joined The Ohio State University staff in 1970 as Assistant Director of Athletics. He was named Associate Director in July of 1977. His chief duties are to conduct special programs, especially the National Youth Sports Program and the Buckeye Summer Sports Camp. He serves as supervisor of the Ice Rink, coordinator of the work-study program, administers the book-loan program, coordinates team travel and is adviser to the cheerleading squad.

Delaney came to Ohio State with a rich background in the operation of youth recreation and settlement house sports programs. He conducted recreation programs in Akron, Chicago and Cleveland before joining The Ohio State staff.

Delaney is a native of Akron and a 1954 graduate of Western Reserve University. As an undergraduate, he played football and basketball.

He returned to Case-Western Reserve in 1969. He served as assistant football coach for two years and was head basketball coach one season. He earned a master's degree in 1970.

He and his wife, Albena, have two sons, Keenan and Kevin.

PHYLLIS BAILEY—ASSOC. DIR. OF ATHLETICS

Phyllis Bailey

Phyllis Bailey was named Assistant Director of Athletics in July of 1975 and Associate Director in July of 1977. Her duties are to supervise and coordinate the rapidly expanding women's athletic program at The Ohio State University.

Miss Bailey has been a member of the Ohio State faculty since the fall of 1956. In 1959 she continued to teach but also became Associate Director of Recreation, Intramurals and Intercollegiate Sports for Women.

It was during this period that the women's intercollegiate athletic program was experiencing rapid growth. Presently there are 12 sports for women at The Ohio State University and the number of participants is increasing annually. With the advent of a grant-in-aid program for women in the fall of 1976, continued growth and expansion are assured.

Miss Bailey is a graduate of Miami University in the class of 1948. Following graduation she was a physical education instructor at Earlham College for three years.

She went to Wayne State University to teach in women's physical education for five years before coming to Ohio State University in 1956.

DON COOK—DIRECTOR OF ATHLETIC FUND RAISING

Don Cook

Don Cook is the first Athletic Department fund raiser. He began in this role in July, 1977, with the title Development Officer. His title was changed July 1, 1981, to Director of Athletic Fund Raising.

Cook served in various administrative positions with The Ohio State University since 1966.

When he came to the Athletic Department in 1977, there was no fund procurement program in operation, so he had to devise a plan and carry it out. Cook has enjoyed remarkable success and has reached a pre-arranged ceiling each year.

Don graduated from Bowling Green in 1958. He taught school several years and later served as school principal. In 1963 he earned a master's degree from Bowling Green.

Since coming to Ohio State, Cook has served as Assistant Director for Admissions for the Graduate School, Associate Director of Professional Admissions and as a member of the University Development Fund staff.

Don and his wife, Sharon, have two daughters, Amy and Kelle.

PLAYERS TO WATCH ON DEFENSE

Marcus Marek (36) was a second team All-American in 1980 and figures to win top honors this year. He continues the Ohio State tradition of great linebackers.

Jerome Foster (55) was an all-Big Ten tackle last year. Strong, fast and very active, he is extremely difficult to block.

Glen Cobb (35) was elected captain on defense even though he is a junior. Intelligent, competitive and steady, he has unusual lateral range.

Chris Riehm (93) was a three-sport standout in high school. He stands 6-6, weighs 260, and is only 20. A junior in college, he is headed for stardom.

THEY MAKE THE OFFENSE GO

Art Schlichter (10) is a prime candidate for the 1981 Heisman Trophy. He holds nearly every passing record in Ohio State history. He has passed for 33 touchdowns and run for 29 in three years.

Tim Spencer (46) played tailback in 1979 and fullback in 1980. Last year, he averaged 5.3 yards per try in 108 attempts and scored eight touchdowns.

Gary Williams (44) begins his third year as a regular. Blessed with good speed, he caught 25 passes as a freshman in 1979 and 39 last year.

Jimmy Gayle (26) averaged 5.3 yards per try at tailback last year. His deceptive running style makes him hard to bring down.

Stanford in 1981

Stanford has 42 lettermen, including 15 starters, from last year's 6-5 team. Aerial fireworks are a certainty with John Elway at quarterback. The gifted Elway passed for 2889 yards and 27 touchdowns in 1980. There is a host of talented receivers, led by Andre Tyler, who caught 53 passes for 737 yards and seven touchdowns last year.

Elusive Darrin Nelson, who averaged 5.5 yards in 161 attempts, will keep the ground game dangerous.

Center John Macaulay, guard Chris Rose and tackle Jim Dykstra are mainstays in the offensive line.

Defensively, there are 21 lettermen, including eight starters. Tackle Doug Rogers, linebackers Craig Zellmer and Jay Summers and corner Vaughn Williams are standouts.

Florida State in 1981

Last year Florida State was ranked second nationally before losing a dramatic 18-17 Orange Bowl contest to Oklahoma. Five offensive starters return from that great team, including quarterback Rick Stockstill, fullback Mike Whiting, wide receiver Hardis Johnson, tight end Sam Childers and a topflight tackle, Tom Brannon. Nine return from last year's second offensive unit.

The defense must be rebuilt with only tackle Garry Futch, end Jarvis Coursey and corner James Harris returning. Fortunately nine second team defenders are back from 1980.

The schedule is frightening. Imagine playing Nebraska, Ohio State, Notre Dame, Pittsburgh and LSU in order, and all on the road.

It was a victory for the Buckeye defense as Marcus Marek, Glen Cobb and Jerome Foster were standouts. The Ohio State defense held the Badgers to a mere 134 yards rushing and 34 passing.

Calvin Murray and Tim Spencer paced the Ohio State ground game with 85 and 81 yards respectively.

No one could remember a game with better passing. Art Schlichter completed 17 of 21 passes for 284 yards and four touchdowns. He was overshadowed by Illinois' David Wilson, who completed 43 of 69 for 621 yards and six touchdowns as he broke or tied five NCAA records.

Purdue in 1981

For the first time since he has been at Purdue, Coach Jim Young will have a quarterback other than Dave Herrmann to direct the attack. Scott Campbell or Larry Gates is the most likely successor to Herrmann.

There is good depth at running back where either Eric Jordan or Jimmy Smith may reach stardom. Steve Bryant caught 50 passes last year and is rated outstanding.

The offensive line is experienced and is one of the biggest in college football.

Defensively, Purdue has a veteran, solid unit, except at linebackers, where graduation hit hard.

The Boilermakers have been to three straight bowls and have no intention of breaking the string in 1981.

Michigan won the Big Ten title outright with a hard-fought 9-3 win over Ohio State. Both teams entered the game with 8-0 records in Big Ten play, but it was the Michigan defense that proved the difference.

The teams traded field goals in the first half as Ohio's Janakievski connected on a 33-yarder and Michigan's Haji-Sheikh countered with a field goal from 43 yards out.

Michigan recovered a Buckeye fumble and drove to the Ohio State 13, where on third down, Wangler passed to Carter in the end zone for the game's only touchdown.

OHIO STADIUM

The symbol of Ohio State University football is Ohio Stadium, a stately, venerable 59-year-old structure that has been the home site for Buckeye games since 1922. Its unique, double-decked, horseshoe-shaped design has been studied by countless architects and designers.

Ohio State played its early football at Ohio Field, with a capacity of 14,000. When the University joined the Western Conference (now the Big Ten) in 1913, pressure for a larger stadium mounted as turn-away crowds at Ohio Field became common.

World War I temporarily arrested plans for a new stadium, but in 1919 University officials laid plans for a dream structure.

In October, 1920, the Stadium campaign officially began. Alumni, friends of Ohio State, Columbus residents and students supported the cause. More than 13,000 people pledged gifts totaling 1,083,000 and the dream thus became a reality.

Construction began in August, 1921, and by September, 1922, the structure was virtually completed. The cost of the Stadium was $1,341,000, an unheard-of figure in those days. The original capacity was 66,210. Critics bitterly chastised Ohio State Athletic Director L. W. St. John for such an extravagant facility that had "thousands of seats that would never be filled."

Ohio Stadium was dedicated October 21, 1922 and an overflow crowd of 71,385 fans was present.

The capacity of the concrete structure has been gradually increased to 73,349 with the addition of several rows of seats, narrowing the width of all seats, and by creating additional boxes. This, coupled with the addition of south stands and temporary field seats, has raised the total seating capacity to 83,112. An additional 1,000 is admitted each game in standing room locations.

Ohio Stadium has unusual design. Towers are located at each side of the open end. The circumference is one-third of a mile and the ground area is ten acres. The Stadium is 752 feet long and 596 feet wide. The height of the back wall is 98 feet.

There are 56 stairways, 12 ramps and 112 aisles feeding 81 exits. A capacity crowd can clear the Stadium in seven minutes.

With the conclusion of the 1980 season, 22,372,581 people have watched 331 Ohio State football games, an average of 67,591 per game and slightly over the original capacity.
